Dear Baltimore School for the Arts community,

An individual at Baltimore School for the Arts has tested positive for Covid-19. The individual is no longer on the campus. Out of respect for confidentiality, we cannot release any personal information. All other in-person learning activities are safe to continue at this time.

We know this news may be unsettling. Any close contacts of the individual will be notified directly by the Office of Human Capital and must quarantine for at least 10 days.

The health and safety of our students is paramount. The impacted areas of the school are being cleaned per City Schools' Standard Operating Procedure on cleaning and disinfecting school buildings.

Thank you for your trust and support. If you have questions or concerns, please call me at 443-642-5165 or email me at rmcauthen@bcps.k12.md.us

Please be safe and take care.

Rosiland Cauthen
Principal
Baltimore School for the Arts
